

ZAMATOLO MTOLO

JUNIOR FULLSTACK SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

Eager to transition into a software development career, I bring a robust background in administration and retail, complemented by recent bootcamp training. With a proven ability to excel both independently and as part of collaborative projects, I am adept at working remotely and open to relocation opportunities. My diverse experiences have equipped me with valuable insights into user experience and client needs, positioning me as a versatile asset in any software development team.
